

College Policy No. 89.04 Academic Misconduct

Academic misconduct is defined in the University Student Code of Conduct (SCOC) <https://doso.wayne.edu/care/student-conduct/code>. Academic misconduct should be documented on the Academic Misconduct Reporting Form, <https://doso.wayne.edu/conduct/student>. Within the form the filer will select if the misconduct will be handled solely within the course in accordance with the syllabus (example actions include downgrading course grade or assignment grade) or if charges will be filed for academic misconduct. Filing charges allows for the consideration of additional discipline beyond actions outlined in the course syllabus. If academic misconduct is handled within a course, the student has the right to appeal the decision within 10 school days as outlined section 10.1.a of the SCOC <https://doso.wayne.edu/care/student-conduct/code>. If academic misconduct charges are filed Section 10.1b of the SCOC describes procedures which will be followed. <https://doso.wayne.edu/care/student-conduct/code>

In the Doctor of Pharmacy program, all academic misconduct forms received by Department Chairs or Dean (if applicable) will be forwarded to CAPP for documentation.
